Helping Seniors And Their Families
Keep Long Island Home

What I've Done Thus Far To Help You Stay on Long Island:

DAVE'S STORY

Like many of you, my children and grandchildren now live outside of New York because of our diminished job market and crushing tax burden. That's why I work so hard everyday - to ensure we can spend our retirement surrounded by the ones we love, right here on Long Island. By reducing the tax burden and expanding the job market, we can ensure that more of our citizens spend their golden years surrounded by friends and family.

- Promoting job-growth initiatives so our next generation can find work right here on Long Island.
- Cutting taxes and reducing state spending so friends and family aren't forced out of their homes by skyrocketing taxes and fees.
- Providing relief from escalating co-payments for prescription drugs by restoring the EPIC program.
- Protecting the right of spousal refusal, which keeps the government from pillaging your life savings to pay for your spouse's long-term care.
- Protecting the families of Medicaid recipients from unfair attacks by tightening the restrictions on government's ability to raid a deceased Long Islander's estate.
